

GOD AND EXISTENCE

There are two significant things that I've become aware of, convincing me that God created the universe and life.

1. It is my humble opinion that all actions of all intelligent beings are created and executed for a purpose. We need only examine anything we human beings create and do to know this.
2. Existence is the universe and life, and the universe can only be experienced through the senses of life, making life very special.

Recognising these two things has given me thousands of reasons to believe in a God, and here are some examples to give you a clue as to what I mean.

Scientists tell us that all life began as simple living cells in the oceans, eventually evolving into life on land, which then evolved into plant and animal life, with thousands of species in each.

Plant life on land provides animal life with oxygen, food, heating, medicines, and building materials. It has thousands of uses for animal life, which could not exist without it.

Life in the oceans depends entirely upon plankton, one of the lowest forms of life. Plankton is the basis of all food systems in the oceans. Without plankton, there would be no sea life, yet many plant and animal life forms have evolved in the oceans over time into plankton and thousands of other life forms.

ALL THESE THINGS GIVE THE UNIVERSE'S EXISTENCE AND LIFE WITHIN IT A PURPOSE, BUT WHAT IS THAT PURPOSE?

The universe is made up of 'galaxies', which in turn are made up of 'solar systems', which are made up of 'suns', with orbiting 'planets, moons, and physical debris. It is extremely complex.

What is the purpose of the universe without life?
Even scientists don't know.

When the universe is investigated, no one has yet come up with what could be called a purpose for its creation, except when we consider that other extremely complex creation, LIFE. This does give the universe a purpose, but how do we know this?

Existence, which is the universe and life, is so complex that it could not have just happened into existence, it must have been designed and then created by some mega-intelligent being,

BUT FOR WHAT PURPOSE,

Whatever the purpose, how could we human beings know about it? There is only one way: if the creator told us, but how did the intelligent creator we call God do this? No matter how we search for an answer, there is only one source for such information, and that is:

THE HOLY BIBLE.

This book consists of the writings of ancient holy men selected by God to be Prophets, plus some of the Apostles of his Son Jesus Christ. Their task was to ensure that all people at that time and in the future knew God's purpose in creating the universe and human life.

The Catholic Church, which Jesus founded, does everything it can to promote the reading of the Bible, making sure that its members know God's purpose for their existence.

This purpose is for the eternal spiritual soul of all human beings to live with God in Heaven for all eternity when their mortal bodies die, but they must earn it by obeying God's commandments.

READ THE BIBLE SO THAT YOU UNDERSTAND GOD'S PURPOSE FOR OUR CREATION AND HAVE AN EASIER TIME EARNING IT.
